

Kwun Tong Promenade Phase 1

This 3-minute video shows the newly opened recreation facilities along the waterfront. It opens with the bustling street scenes of Kwun Tong area. Crowds jostle on the streets while MTR trains, buses and taxis fleet by.

The camera then moves to the main entrance of the Kwun Tong Promenade, which is set against a backdrop of a kaleidoscope flowers and lush green plants. A classical music soundtrack plays in the background as visitors stroll into the park under the Kwun Tong Bypass. The scene ends with a close up of the directional sign.

Two cute girls gambol in the plaza, playing with the mists that waft through the air but elude their touch. The camera then pans from the perspective of sheltered seats overlooking the panoramic harbour and loading/unloading barges to trees, pavilions and children's play equipment set along the promenade.

The Kwun Tong Promenade is one of the best spots for enjoying the spectacular sight of Victoria Harbour in the evening. The setting sun casts a golden glow over the park. As music rises, mists waft up from the ground. Together with the play of multicolored lights, they add to the surreal effect and contribute to the unique attraction of the waterfront promenade.
